ARMS CONFERENCE AGREES ON MAJOR DETAILS

OF AMERICAN PROGRAM NAVAL DISARMAMENT

ALL POWERS ACCEPT FOUR PRINCIPLES SUGGESTED BY U. S. ON FAR EASTERN QUESTION

COMPLETE SUCCESS OF CONFERENCE IS ASSURED—ALL WORK IN ACCORD

(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 22—The arms limitation conference today had definitely passed through the period of mere talk into the phase of actual accomplishment. A complete agreement on the major details of the American sweeping program for limitation of naval armament appeared to be sealed, following the acceptance by all powers of the four principles suggested by the United States as the basis of any far eastern settlment. Only on limitation of land armament is definite agreement doubtful.

From now on, the process of "getting together" is expected to proceed uninterrupted, an American official told the United Press.

"We have made definite and most satisfying progress on everything," he said. "We are most optimistic that we shall from now on make progress even more rapidly because the conference thus far has produced an atmosphere of accord and understanding that is most happy, and is essential to our success."

Frame Binding Agreement

Washington, Nov. 22—The arms conference today delved into the puzzling problems of China's finances.

On motion of Senator Underwood, American delegate, the far eastern committee appointed a sub-committee to investigate the Chinese treasury, and the treaty provisions limiting customs she may impose to five per cent on the products of the various nations.

While the American advisory council might, with the American delegates "react" to certain suggested modifications in the American program for limitation of naval proment, there were indications that Japan was prepared to abandon some of her objections in this respect. A complete agreement on the American program appeared nearer.

Great Britain semi-officially backed the view of the United States that a definite, binding agreement should be framed by the conference in settlement of far eastern problems.

The statement of Edmund Von Thermann, new German charge d'affaires, that Germany is ready to give to an international tribunal any guarantees necessary to allay France's fear of a new war across the Rhine, caused a stir among the delegates but official comment was withheld.

Conference Nearing Agreement

Washington, Nov. 22—The arms limitation conference today was coming speedily toward an agreement on two of the major tasks—limitation of naval armament and untangling of the intricate far eastern problem. As to the third major task—limitation of land armament—the impression prevailed that it would not be taken up at this time.

It was apparent that the American government is first driving toward a definite agreement on naval armaments and far eastern questions.

Germany, through Edmund Von Phermann, who has charge of her affairs here, denied Premier Briand's charge that the nation is a great perpetual war machine, and stated she is willing to give "further guarantees to an international tribunal," to allay France's fear of any war from across the Rhine.

Briand was confident he had accomplished the purpose of his trip to America—to rally the support of the world to France. France's army yet will be a real one despite danger here, he said.

Before the conference completes the settlement of far eastern affairs, the United States will ask the nations involved to sign an agreement or treaty embodying in detail the principles approved. This probably will be drawn up by Elihu Root.

Ask Powers to Sign Agreement

Washington, Nov. 22—The United States will ask the signatures of the powers attending the arms limitation and far eastern conference to a definite understanding regarding far eastern and Pacific questions.

This may be in the form of a treaty, or simply an agreement, but in any event, it is to be put in binding form.

A resolution adopted late yesterday by the conference sitting as a committee on far eastern and Pacific questions is to form the basis for the agreement. This resolution, proposed by Elihu Root of the American delegation, relates especially to China.

The American delegation ignores or opposes Japan's reservation on this point intending to take up and settle each question respecting China and far east generally which has been recognized as a cause of international discord, in order to remove danger of war in that part of the world.

MEASURE NOW GOES TO SENATE FOR CONCURRENCE EXPECTED BY WEDNESDAY

Washington, Nov. 22.—The house yesterday adopted the conference report on the tax revision bill. The measure now goes to the senate where Republican leaders plan to pass it by Wednesday night even if night sessions are necessary.

The vote was 232 to 109. Before adopting the conference report on the bill, the house defeated, 202 to 141, a motion from the Democratic side to send the measure back to conference with instructions to the house managers to accept the senate amendment increasing the inheritance taxes. Forty-two Republicans voted for the motion, while four Democrats voted against it.

Nelson, and Voigt all of Wisconsin; James and Woodruff, Michigan; Michaelson, Illinois; Ryan, New York; Sinclair, North Dakota, and Keller, Minnesota. The six Democrats were: Campbell, Pennsylvania; Lea, California and Dupeau, Favrot, Lazro and Martin all of Louisiana.

In the four-hour debate which preceded the voting, Chairman Fordney of the house managers, said the measure in its present form would yield a total revenue this fiscal year of $3,210,000,000, or $46,000,000 less than the amount the treasury department had estimated would be needed. He thought this deficit could be wiped out by further economies by the various federal departments.

BROTHERS MAY FIGHT FOR BOXING CROWN

(By United Press.)

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 22.—Brother against brother. That's what Columbus boxing fans believe will come to pass in the near future.

The two fighting O'Dowds, Phil and Eddie, are both hot on the trail of Johnny Buff, who holds both the flyweight and bantamweight championships of the world. Phil O'Dowd is a bantamweight. Eddie is a flyweight.

Eddie boxed Buff recently and showed him enough boxing gloves to get the newspaper decision over the champion, although the judges ruled otherwise. Phil broke into the spotlight by lacing Joe Lynch.

If Phil wins over the champion, he will cop only the bantamweight title, because he fights only at bantamweight—118 or 120 pounds.

Eddie is a legitimate flyweight, although he occasionally accepts a bantamweight match. If Eddie wins over Buff, he can claim both crowns, for he can fight at any weight Buff prescribes. No matter which O'Dowd boy fights Buff, if he wins, his brother will be the logical contender for the first match.

NOTED 'MUSHER' BREAKS THROUGH ICE, DROWNED

Goyne, winner of the famous 1920 Canadian dog race, and hero of a number of long "mushes," went through thin ice with his champion team of nine dogs a week ago.

He started out for Dupes trading post Nov. 13th for a fishing camp 26 miles away to fish for his dogs. Eleven pups followed him. Two days later the pups returned.

Alarmed, the people followed his trail eighteen miles. At this point on the lake, his trail ended.

Apparently Goyne went down with his heavy sleigh and his nine champion dogs. There was no sign that any escaped. It will be impossible to locate his body until it thaws, natives said.

Goyne was preparing his dog team for the race this winter. He planned to run a team of 16 to 20 dogs and to train them hard. He was planning to do his training where no one would see him. He introduced a new style of race in 1920, using a sleigh of his own design.

He spent most of last winter in St. Paul and Minneapolis and represented St. Paul in this year's derby. He lost the race because he refused to force his dogs over the trail with sore feet.

Receivers For the Breen Hotel in St. Cloud Appointed

St. Cloud, Nov. 22—Steps to have cancelled a 15-year lease on the Breen hotel prepared by and for Messrs. Breen and Hesse and filed Friday, were taken by creditors of the hotel property.

Numerous creditors of the hotel met at the Farmers' State bank and Edward Zapp, local banker, appointed chairman of a committee to consult with attorneys and to draw up plans for protecting the interests of creditors. Another meeting of creditors is called for today, when something definite will be done to alleviate the situation, it is believed.

J. J. Quigley, local attorney, and Judge Frederick N. Dickson, St. Paul, are expected to file $25,000 bond and automatically become receivers for the hotel property. Mr. Quigley and Judge Dickson were appointed receivers by Judge Roeser at Little Falls.

In the lease taken out by Messrs. Breen and Hesse, the hotel is rented to the two for a period of 15 years at a monthly rental of $3,100. Creditors declare that the monthly rental stipulated in the lease is too small, and that the hotel property should not be rented for less than $6,000 per month. They charge that the difference in the rental will result in personal profit to those taking out the lease. Drastic steps to cancel the lease were advocated in whispered gatherings of creditors about the downtown section.

BRITON THINKS U. S. WILL STAY DRY AND PROSPER

By CLYDE A. BEALS,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, Nov. 22.—Sir Arthur Newsholme, formerly member of the Ministry of Health, discussing prohibition in America on his return here after a two years' visit to the United States, hammered another nail into the lid of the "medicine chest."

"The American public," he said, "will endorse the action already taken, and will insist on its continuance and extension, and prohibition, in my view, will remain in operation as the law of the land."

Sir Arthur views the question from the standpoint of the persons made to suffer in consequence of other persons' drinking.

"Liberation of the many from unfair conditions rather than personal liberty, which might easily become license, is," he says, "the present social desideratum. The case for compulsion, and it is a good one, is that moral suasion acts slowly on minorities and meanwhile multitudes of innocent persons continue to suffer, and the community suffers in pocket and in efficiency."

Apparently Goyne went down with his heavy sleigh and his nine champion dogs. There was no sign that any escaped. It will be impossible to locate his body until it thaws, natives said.

Goyne was preparing his dog team for the race this winter. He planned to run a team of 16 to 20 dogs and to train them hard. He was planning to do his training where no one would see him. He introduced a new style of race in 1920, using a sleigh of his own design.

He spent most of last winter in St. Paul and Minneapolis and represented St. Paul in this year's derby. He lost the race because he refused to force his dogs over the trail with sore feet.

He was known as one of the best sportsmen of the north.

REIGN OF TERROR GRIPS BELFAST

BECAUSE THE GOVERNMENT APPROVED HOME RULE MOBS ATTACK PEDESTRIANS

(By United Press.)

Belfast, Nov. 22.—A virtual reign of terror is gripping Belfast today as the result of the Ulster government approving the powers of home rule. Mobs attacked pedestrians, bullets whistle down half deserted streets, armed lorries with heavy machine guns scurry about the districts where gansters are fighting revolver duels. Hidden on the house tops and dim doorways, snipers fire into the streets.

In York street, one was killed and several seriously injured.

Receivers For the Breen Hotel in St. Cloud Appointed

St. Cloud, Nov. 22—Steps to have cancelled a 15-year lease on the Breen hotel prepared by and for Messrs. Breen and Hesse and filed Friday, were taken by creditors of the hotel property.

Numerous creditors of the hotel met at the Farmers' State bank and Edward Zapp, local banker, appointed chairman of a committee to consult with attorneys and to draw up plans for protecting the interests of creditors. Another meeting of creditors is called for today, when something definite will be done to alleviate the situation, it is believed.

J. J. Quigley, local attorney, and Judge Frederick N. Dickson, St. Paul, are expected to file $25,000 bond and automatically become receivers for the hotel property. Mr. Quigley and Judge Dickson were appointed receivers by Judge Roeser at Little Falls.

In the lease taken out by Messrs. Breen and Hesse, the hotel is rented to the two for a period of 15 years at a monthly rental of $3,100. Creditors declare that the monthly rental stipulated in the lease is too small, and that the hotel property should not be rented for less than $6,000 per month. They charge that the difference in the rental will result in personal profit to those taking out the lease. Drastic steps to cancel the lease were advocated in whispered gatherings of creditors about the downtown section.

BRITON THINKS U. S. WILL STAY DRY AND PROSPER

By CLYDE A. BEALS,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, Nov. 22.—Sir Arthur Newsholme, formerly member of the Ministry of Health, discussing prohibition in America on his return here after a two years' visit to the United States, hammered another nail into the lid of the "medicine chest."

"The American public," he said, "will endorse the action already taken, and will insist on its continuance and extension, and prohibition, in my view, will remain in operation as the law of the land."

Sir Arthur views the question from the standpoint of the persons made to suffer in consequence of other persons' drinking.

"Liberation of the many from unfair conditions rather than personal liberty, which might easily become license, is," he says, "the present social desideratum. The case for compulsion, and it is a good one, is that moral suasion acts slowly on minorities and meanwhile multitudes of innocent persons continue to suffer, and the community suffers in pocket and in efficiency."

STRONG TESTIMONY FOR THE DEFENSE IN ARBUCKLE TRIAL

(By United Press)

A. R. Semnecher, who brought Miss Rappe to Arbuckle's party, testified on cross examination he had seen Miss Rappe disrobe herself "two or three times" when drinking.

Water Power In Canada

(By United Press)

WWinnipeg, Man., Nov. 22.—Canada is harnessing its streams and turning the power to production. A two-year survey by the Dominion Government which is just being completed shows that wheels and turbines to the extent of 2,471,000 horsepower are now in operation. This represents only 5.9 per cent of the waterpower resources, which the survey places at 41,700,000 horsepower.

Elastic Schedule

In the old days of Mississippi river travel, the "Stephen J. Hill" gained note as the worst boat on the river. One afternoon a fog settled and the captain gave orders to tie up for the rest of the day.

"It's too bad we're going to be late, captain," said a passenger.

"We ain't," retorted the skipper calmly.

"But I thought you were going to tie up here for hours."

"So we are, but that ain't going to make us late. We don't run so close to time as all that."

Towel Found Useful

"We were just about to go to press last week," said the editor of the Chiggersville Clarion, "when we discovered that we didn't have any ink."

"But you got out the paper as usual."

"Oh, yes; I had a happy thought. I rubbed the office towel over the form and we printed a pretty fair edition."

GERMANY WILLING GIVE GUARANTEES OF FUTURE PEACE

NEW GERMAN MINISTER TO THE U. S. SAYS FRANCE NEED NOT FEAR GERMANY

By CARL D. GROAT,
(Copyright 1921 by United Press)

Washington, Nov. 22—Germany is ready to give further guarantees to an international tribunal to allay France's fear of a new war from across the Rhine.

Edmund Von Thermann, head of the Germany embassy, and ultimately to become the counsellor, expressed this as his belief today.

Germany desires an undisturbed opportunity to work and will make these guarantees in any suitable form the rest of the world desires.

The new German representative, a young clean-cut man of Saxon-Phuringran stock, bearing no duel cuts or other earmarks, made clear he could not and would not accept Premier Briand's statement about Germany. His remarks came after long persistence in questioning when he was asked if he agreed with similar guarantees of views as of Herr George Bernhard, editor-in-chief of the Vossiche Zeitung of Berlin.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN

Club Entertained on Friday Evening by Miss Islay McColl at Her North Side Home

115 MEMBERS WERE PRESENT

Style Show is Put on Followed by a Humorous Skit Entitled "The Missing Link"

(Contributed)

The largest attendance at any gathering of the Business and Professional Women's club was that of Friday evening, when Miss Islay McColl offered the hospitality of her home to the members of the club. The entertainment, which took the form of a basement party, was arranged by the entertainment committee for November, Miss McColl being the chairman.

The capacity of the large basement was taxed to the limit, about one hundred and fifteen members being in attendance. At one end of the basement a stage had been arranged, with a curtain, 'n everything. Large theatre posters were placed here and there, to give a realistic effect. "Jimmie," the call boy (Mrs. Falconer) ushered.

The program as arranged by the committee was not followed very closely, as a number who has promised to assist were unable to appear. However, the talent of the club was called upon, and at the last moment impromptu numbers were added, which did much to make the evening enjoyable.

The first number was a one-act comedy-drama, entitled "Two Desperadoes." The parts of travellers and peasants were ably taken by Miss Sal Schellin, Miss Alma Molgren, Miss Hulda Kirsch and Miss Leona Maghan. The denouement caused a gale of laughter.

The next was an impromptu number. Miss Harriet Engsberg, dressed as a little school "kid," sang a parody on "School Days," accompanied in burlesque manner by Miss May Hurley, who donned a Yama Yama suit for the occasion. Miss Engsberg wore a short, frilly pink dress, and her hair was in a long braid. A huge stick of striped candy was attacked with gusto during the "song."

Miss Anna Erickson kindly consented to sing, and gave "Just Awearyin' For You" very sweetly. Responding to a hearty encore, she sang "One Fleeting Hour." Miss Erickson was accompanied on the violin by Miss Alice Johnstone, who was in an attractive checker-board costume in black and white, with hat to match.

After the guests had been seated, a funny old Irish woman wandered in. Her attire was very quaint, and over her tight black bodice she wore a little shawl. One sadly noticed the absence of a front tooth. On her arm she carried a small bag, which seemed to contain almost everything not needed at an evening entertainment, with the exception of a pair of spectacles. It was whispered around that this bit of Old Irish was in private life the charming Miss Pearl Cater. Her remarks about the company and players were excruciatingly funny and drew forth a fusillade of laughter.

She was asked to sing, and finally consented, and sang in a very droll manner "Mother Machree" and "Where the River Shannon Flows." Her burlesquing of these songs could not disguise the fact that she has a truly fine voice. Miss Johnstone played her accompaniments.

Then came a reading, "Furnace and I," my Miss Islay McColl. The reading afforded the visitor from the Old Sod with an opportunity to comment in a whimsical manner, all her remarks having a strong spice of Irish wit that convulsed the audience.

The next number was deserving of a larger stage and more pretentious surroundings. It was a Style Show, with garments, hats nad accessories from the leading establishments of Brainerd. Draperies were from The Northern Home Furnishing company, who, through the kindness of J. E. O'Brien, furnished other articles used during the evening. The Patek Furniture company supplied a mahogany floor lamp, and two screens, and hrough the courtesy of the H. F. Michael Co., the guests were enabled to hear up-to-the-minute music played on a large Victrola.

Miss Lillian Benson portrayed in a very pleasing manner exquisite silk lingerie, both the Van Raalte and the Towsley Bliss makes. A flesh colored butterfly step-in with lace-edged Mardi-Gras points was especially lovely. Several pale rose colored crepe de Chine gowns were gracefully shown by Miss Benson. These had tiny puff sleeves, and appliques of dainty French flowers in pastel colors.

Two attractive Gossard models were fitted to Miss Benson by Miss Monica McGill, also a flesh colored satin girdle, which was praised by the old Irish Lady as being "sensible-like." She was very shocked at the presence of Jimmie, the usher, during this showing. Miss Benson concluded the showing by donning a charming wool tricotine one-piece dress. Its straight lines were relieved by a trimming of green wooden beads, and Mohawk and dark blue embroidery. The slit sleeves were most unusual. All praised Miss Benson's modest and womanly way of showing these garments so dear to feminine hearts.

A gateleg table and little sewing box, with a few comfortable chairs, made a pleasing setting for the next modeling. Miss Laura Cosette, acting the part of hostess, wore an attractive afternoon gown of black satin crepe, elaborately embroidered in steel beads. After walking slowly across the stage, she seated herself at the table. She was followed by Miss Helen Mukari, in a handsome brown velour suit, trimmed with the popular nutria fur. A large black picture hat of velvet, trimmed with ostrich, was worn with this suit.

Miss Delia Koop, as another hostess, carried to the table a tea tray and service, giving the adience an opportunity to view her gown of navy blue Poriet twill, with a vest of bright red broadcloth, trimmed with rows of military braid. Decidedly unusual was the little cape, reaching to the waist line, and the wide bell sleeves were noticed with interest.

Miss Alice Johnstone, wearing a striking gown of black Canton crepe, crossed the make-believe room next. The most noticeable feature was the design of the sleeves. Of tomato red Georgette, and very wide, they were most effective. Medallions of matching color marked the low waist line. Streamers of black morie ribbon hung from the waist.

Miss Mary Bikkie wore a rich looking suit of brown velour, fur trimmed, with a matching hat of brown velvet. A luxurious wrap of Harding blue valdine, with collar and bands of nutria fur was worn by Miss Sigred Carlson. Her hat, a turban of cloth-of-silver and mole skin, was most becoming. With her walked Miss Sal Schellin, wearing a wrap of both charm and convenience, for the wide sleeves and deep arm hole prevent the crushing of garments worn beneath. The wrap was of brown valdine, with deep furry collar and motifs of brown nutria. Both wraps were lined with richly brocaded material. Miss Schelln's hat was a picture hat of black velvet, with the brim made entirely of gros-grain ribbon in coral shade, the fringe of the ribbon making a drooping edge.

Miss Goldie Headlund stepped jauntily across the floor, wearing a sports skirt and wool jersey sweater coat of brown. The skirt was of prunella cloth, with insets of Paisley. Her hat was a sports model in brown velour.

Each model was given enthusiastic applause, and applause for the group continued after the curtain was lowered.

The gowns worn were from the H. F. Michael company, suits from Geo. F. Murphy, wraps and slippers from O'Brien Mercantile company, sports suits and hats from E. H. Jones. The hats worn by Miss Bikkie and Miss Hukari were from the Scallen and Husted Hat Shop, and the turban and picture hats worn by Miss Carlson and Miss Schellin were from the Grandelmeyer Hat Shop. The club wishes to thank these business houses and others who helped to make the entertainment a success.

Last on the program was a humorous pantomine entitled "The Missing Link." Those participating were Dr. Skinnem, from the Hamburger University, assisted by three trained nurses, Miss Cuttem, Miss Slashum and Miss Cureall. Then there were the patients (a very sick woman) and her doting mother. An operation was performed, which proved entirely successful, and the patient was able to join the guests in the enjoyment of light refreshments. The refreshments were served in cafeteria style, sandwiches, little cakes and hot coffee being served with very little confusion, even though the gathering was large.

The committee on arrangements was congratulated on all sides for the unique entertainment provided, many declaring they had not had so much real fun in years. The guests were loth to leave, and gathered around the piano, singing the rollicking new songs, and those endeared by age. Contrary to most large gatherings, there seemed to be no mis-mated rubbers or overshoes, and all left in a happy state of mind.

The entertainment committee was as follows: Miss Islay McColl, chairman; Miss Sophia Witte, Miss Elizabeth Crust, Miss Mary Clarke, Miss Goldie Hedlund, Miss Mabel Olson, Miss Evelyn Storm, Miss Isabelle Worden, Miss May Hurley, Miss Nila Kinsmiller, Miss Beatrice McDonald, Miss Lillian Benson, Mrs. Hattie Otis, Miss Myrtle Lindholm, Miss Pearl Cater.

TO AID COUNTY NURSE

Bay Lake Rural Progressive Club Plans on Continuation of Such Aid, Adopts Resolutions

At the last Saturday meeting of the Bay Lake Rural Progressive club a resolution was unanimously adopted looking to the continuation of the services of the county nurse.

Realizing the need of a county nurse and appreciating the efficient manner in which such duties have been handled by Miss Grimes, the present county nurse, it was resolved that every member of that club should renew their membership or join the Red Cross organization.

All expense incident to having a county nurse is paid from funds subscribed to the Red Cross in the smaller towns and rural communities in the county. For this reason community clubs similar in purpose to the Bay Lake Progressive club should take an active part in supporting the Red Cross campaign for members now being put on throughout the country.

BIG RAIL EQUIPMENT ORDERS

An important announcement is made in the twin city newspapers—important and of much interest to the people of the entire Northwest. It is, in brief, that equipment purchases involving aggregate investments of approximately $25,000,000 have been planned definitely by "home" railroads. The importance of this news lies not alone in the great sum to be expended, but also in the fact that extensive equipment expansion programs are in preparation for a marked increase in business which railroad officials declare is close at hand. It is, indeed, a most encouraging indication of a decided turn for the better in business conditions throughout the country. It is unmistakable evidence that we have "turned the corner."

Railroad equipment, which generally deteriorated under the pressure of the Federal control period and the financial stress since, has prevented the railroads from necessary improvements, the officials say. At present railroad earnings barely exceed expenditures, it is claimed, but adequate equipment must be provided to handle the greatly increased traffic which is assured during coming months and through next year.

What is of more local interest, perhaps is that included in this program is the plan of the Northern Pacific to remodel ninety-seven passenger coaches, making them all steel except for interior finishings, at a cost of approximately $1,750,000. This is a part of the program for the remodeling of 150 passenger cars of this road.

It is also announced that, continuing its freight car remodeling program, the Northern Pacific is in the market for steel center sills for 1,200 box cars, the work and material to cost approximately $500,000.

Much repair work on bad order freight cars is being speeded also by the Northern Pacific, in order that the full quota of cars will be available to handle the increased traffic expected.

We do not know positively of course, where the work of the Northern Pacific will be done, but a very natural assumption would be that much of it will be done at the big railroad shops in Brainerd.

All of which is, indeed, good news to everybody here.

OUR COSTLY LUXURIES

Some curious applications have been given the Federal tax returns in connection with problems now before the Conference on Limitation of Armaments. Government statisticians have endeavored to bring the relative figures as to military expenditures and the amounts spent by the people for amusements and minor luxuries out so sharply that their significance would be seen at a glance, and they have apparently succeeded, as the figures will show.

For instance, as against $418,000,000 spent for the army in 1921, the people of this country spent $750,000,000 in candy and gum, $834,000,000 in soda and confections, and $595,000,000 for perfumery, jewelry, silk stockings and other articles for personal adornment. And yet we talk of a business depression, unemployment, high cost of living, etc.!

But this is not all in the way of luxuries. The smokers paid out $1,151,000,000 for tobacco in all forms. Baseball fans, theatergoers, cabaret frequenters and those attending concerts paid $897,000,000. There is, of course, no report upon the illegal sales of liquor.

We are indeed a great nation!

IMPORTANT TO AUTOISTS

Auto owners in Minnesota will no doubt be pleased to learn that their state licenses for 1922 will cost from 10 to 20 per cent less than they did this year. The drop is due to reductions in prices of all makes of motor vehicles. The 1922 taxes will, it is understood, be based on the factory list price for Nov. 1, 1921, as compared with 1921 taxes on a basis of Nov. 1, 1919, two years earlier, and at a date before most of the motor car price reductions had been put into effect. Practically the only taxes that will not be lowered will be those on cars carrying the $12 minimum charge for pleasure vehicles and the $15 minimum tax for trucks and commercial cars.

Autoists may begin paying their 1922 state tax Dec. 1, and new number plates will be available on that date. Applications will be opened a month before the expiration of the current year, because the limit for payment before the penalty begins will be Jan. 31, 1922, instead of July 1, as it was this year. It is well for all auto owners to bear this in mind.

SHOP CRAFTS' RULES DEC. 1

Announcement is made by the United States Railroad Labor Board that the new working rules for the six shop crafts will probably be issued in time to become effective Dec. 1. The issuance of these new rules, under a recent decision of the Board, paves the way for consideration of requests which may be filed by the railroad companies for a revision of the shop crafts' wage schedules. Approximately 500,000 men on all Class 1 railroads in the country will be affected by the new shop craft rules. Members of the Board express the belief that all the Class 1 railroads will carry out the decision without further hearings.

One of the most important gatherings of agricultural men at the University farm is promised for "Farmers' and Home Makers'," Jan. 2 to 7, at the Agricultural College, University of Minnesota. The farmers' and homemakers' short course will be conducted, while annual conventions of several allied organizations will be held.

The interim tax commission of the Minnesota Legislature will meet in December, and at this meeting a conference will be held with the State Tax Commission, and the results of the trip of the interim commission to the iron ranges will be discussed and studied.

It is whispered that Jim Cox still has presidential aspirations, and the Detroit Free Press suggests that the Republicans ought to encourage them in every possible way. We heartily second the motion.

"Quo Vadis" is Greatest Picture Ever Seen Here

The motion picture "fan" of today demands thrills, adventure, love interest and "something to carry home and think about." In "Quo Vadis" which is being presented at Lyceum tonight for the last time, he will get all of this and more. He will have more thrills than he ever had in one evening in his life; he will behold love that transforms base metal into pure gold; he will see the downfall of the most autocratic government in ancient times and the birth and spread of the Christian faith.

"Quo Vadis" is the most absorbingly interesting and thrilling production that has ever been screened. It is correct historically, delightful artistically and perfect in detail and perspective, besides being a profound psychological study.

The scene is Rome in the time of Nero, most corrupt of the Caesars, when the Eternal City was the melting pot of the world. The contrast between Nero and the Apostle Peter, the Empress Poppaea Augusta and Lygia, the Christian maiden, with the transformation of Vinitius' life and character through his love for Lygia are as vivid as anything in the drama or in literature. The scenes are tremendously real and spectacular. Nothing more realistic has ever been accomplished in photographic art than the portrayal of the great royal banquets, the burning of Rome and the scenes in the arena—the gladiatorial contests and the feeding of the Christians to the lions.

"Sheltered Daughters" at Lyceum Wednesday and Thrusday

Is it fair to a girl to protect her too much from the world? Anxious parents have long found this a perplexing problem to solve, and now motion pictures have taken up the question. For it is the story of a too carefully reared and guarded little girl that is unfolded in "Sheltered Daughters," with beautiful Justine Johnstone that will be shown at the Lyceum tomorrow and Thursday.

Church Members Take Active Interest in "Quo Vadis"

Keen observers at the Lyceum theater, where the great revival of "Quo Vadis" is playing, have noticed that a considerable part of the immense interest taken in this photo-spectacle supreme is shown by local churchgoers and that section of the community commonly classed as non-theater attendants. In this way it has had a far more comprehensive appeal than dred productions.

Harold Lloyd Spreads Laughter Germs at New Park Tomorrow

Harold Lloyd has set the hearts of the world beating in happiness throbs He has set the mouths of the world in an ear to ear grin; he has set the tongues of the world wagging about the comedian who is different; the comedian who is funny but not vulgar; the comedian who always delivers the comedy goods.

Harold Lloyd has made a personal press agent of every one who has seen him. The spontaneity, originality and naturalness of his fun is so contagious that victims of his humor never have a chance to recover from Harold Lloyditis.

The disease first manifests itself in a breaking out of smiles; then an outburst of chuckles, laughs and roars. Once that stage has been reached the victim is helpless and hopeless. He then becomes addicted to much conversation on the subject of Harold Lloyd and his latest comedy. He is overpowered by the desire to "say a mouthful." He is even sometimes found feverishly arguing as to whether or not Harold Lloyd's famous shell-rimmed spectacles have lens in them! The patient never takes medicine, as the disease is found more pleasant than the cure. And, besides, there is no cure.

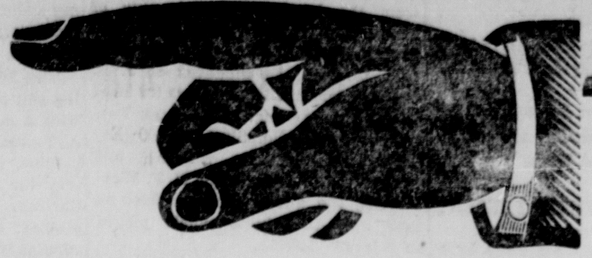

At the New Park Theatre Tomorrow and Thursday

Eugene O'Brien as Michael Strange in the new Selznick Picture, "Broadway and Home," goes through many mentally harrowing experiences in his desires to see life. He returns to his boyhood home a sadder but infinitely wiser man. What transpires in the interim between the start and return forms an intensely interesting and dramatic photoplay.

Alternate scenes of the rugged New England sea coast and the busy streets of Manhattan form the locale of the story, which is by John Lynch.

"Broadway and Home" will be the feature attraction at the New Park theatre tomorrow and Thursday.

Memorial services of Brainerd Lodge of Elks, No. 615, will be observed on Sunday afternoon, December 4, at 2:30 o'clock at the New Park theatre. The Elks memorial services are public. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Hon. Lawrence C. Hodgson, (Larry Ho), mayor of St. Paul and member of St. Paul lodge No. 59, will deliver the memorial address. Larry Ho is such an orator, such a master of pure, limpid English, that it is a real pleasure to hear him.

Death's harvest for 1921 includes four brothers:

H. M. Gann, a newspaper publisher formerly of Northern Minnesota and later of Lake Wales, Florida, who died last year just before memorial services of 1920 and whose death therefore is included with this year.

Charles Katz, well known business man of Brainerd, who died February 2, 1921. The eulogy for these two will be delivered by Past Exalted Ruler R. R. Gould.

T. G. Butler of Akeley who died July 15, 1921. Mr. Butler formerly conducted the Cole store in Pequot and had a gallant civil war record.

"Thanatopsis" will be given by Past Exalted Ruler and Past District Deputy C. D. Johnson.

The ushers will be Milton Mahlum, B. L. Lagerquist, A. C. Ebert, A. P. Drogseth of Brainerd and J. P. Anderson of Crosby.

The fare on the special is $1.62 for the round trip and the house and social committee has tickets on sale. One hundred and fifty tickets must be sold to cover the guarantee. See any member of the house and social committee, Clyde E. Parker, Axel Fall, A. P. Drogseth, James H. Alderman or W. J. Lyonais. Be there, and help cover the guarantee.

MINISTER COMMENDS 'QUO VADIS'

"Quo Vadis is the best picture of its kind that I have seen. Other tremendous spectacles have been thrown on the screen here, but there have been certain features which have been subject to condemnation. "Quo Vadis" is without the objectionable features which have marred other pictures.

The pictures are magnificent. The burning of Rome is a thrilling sight. The early Christian history is treated with a reverence which is altogether unusual.

One sees opportunities in the picture for the introduction of sensuous appeals, but the picture throughout is perfectly clean. Children may be taken or sent to see this picture and their parents may be assured that those things which they do not wish their children to see are not to be found in this pictured story of "Quo Vadis."

The acting is of a high order. The beggar in the story is unusually well done. In fact the writer has seen few players whom he believes even approximates this character.

The words used in the advertising may well be used of this play. It is magnificent, gigantic and enthralling.

In writing thus, the writer desires that it be understood that he is not acting as the advertising agent for the Lyceum theatre. But inasmuch as our theatres are commercial enterprises which must cater to the tastes of their patronage, it is fitting that those who appreciate the better grade pictures should say so. And, again, to criticise the management of theatres for screening the productions which fill the seats is ill-advised unless the critic shows his appreciation of the good pictures and refuses to go to see the questionable ones. A careful choice of pictures on the part of patrons leading to the patronage of those of good quality would quickly result in the management of the theatres offering pictures which are above criticism. In other words we get what we want. The theatre is supplying the demand made by its patrons.

FRED ERRINGTON,
Pastor First Congregational Church.

WELCOME EVANGELIST

"An Old Fashioned Theme" Was Topic for First Sermon Given by Dr. George E. Burlingame

"An Old-Fashioned Theme" was the topic for the first sermon given by Geo. E. Burlingame, in the Swedish Baptist Church at Tenth and Oak streets last night. The evangelistic services in which the two Baptist churches of the city have been cooperating, has been transferred for this week to the new location, and will continue through the entire week and over Sunday.

"Come to Jesus" was the recurring strain of the message, and the preacher told why we come to the Saviour: that we may be forgiven, that we may be changed, that we may be satisfied, and that we may be led.

"Alteration done here" was a sign which the speaker saw recently in a Duluth store window, and it concisely set forth the purpose of Jesus through his gospel. He changes things and makes them fit and beautiful. He changes every life he takes hold of, and when we realize that we are not what we ought to be, nor what we want to be, we may come to him and be made new creatures through his divine redeeming power.

Afternoon meetings will be held at 2:30 Wednesday and Friday.

ROLL CALL ENDOREMENTS

Bishop McDowell—"It ought not to be necessary for anyone to commend the work of the American Red Cross. Its record is written on so many fields that it can be read anywhere. I am one of those who have the highest appreciation of gratitude for the work the American Red Cross has done and is doing."

Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia—"I deem it a duty to exhort all our citizens to enroll in this admirable organization, which for so many years past, and especially during the World war, has rendered to mankind such noble services and benefactions. In times of peace it has come to the rescue of victims of pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other great calamity and it strives to devise and carry on measures for preventing the causes of suffering."

Rabbi Stephen Wise—"Every American ought to be a member of the Red Cross. It is America's Community of Service. This is the time to strengthen the Red Cross that it may be enabled adequately to render its present services and be equal to any emergency that may arrise. Armistice Day to Thanksgiving—hope and memory, pride and gratitude, summon every American to the Annual Roll Call of honor through service."

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, Pres. Gen. Fed. Women's Clubs—"It would seem a work of supererogation to commend the Red Cross when we all know what it stands for in the world. It was not hard to get united support of a great relief organization during the crisis of war. But the measure of our depth of compassion must be in these years of broadcast human misery, of tragedies of after war and of catastrophe during which the waters of compassion must be kept sweet and moving."

Little Mother Happy Again

"For the past nine years I have been very much distressed with bloating and stomach trouble due to constipation since I was a child. No medicine gave me more than temporary relief. I got so bad I was afraid I would have to leave my three little children. But since taking a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy two years ago I have been entirely well; no constipation or other trouble." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One does will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and all leading druggists. Adv.

In district court the case of Jack Hill, charged with the illegal sale of liquor, is on trial. W. F. Wieland appears for the defendant. In the civil case of Florence Anderson vs the First State bank of Jenkins, two civil cases of a similar nature were consolidated, both involving a land transaction. They were made a court case and were heard by Judge W. S. McClenahan who will render his decision later.

MINISTER COMMENDS 'QUO VADIS'

"Quo Vadis is the best picture of its kind that I have seen. Other tremendous spectacles have been thrown on the screen here, but there have been certain features which have been subject to condemnation. "Quo Vadis" is without the objectionable features which have marred other pictures.

The pictures are magnificent. The burning of Rome is a thrilling sight. The early Christian history is treated with a reverence which is altogether unusual.

One sees opportunities in the picture for the introduction of sensuous appeals, but the picture throughout is perfectly clean. Children may be taken or sent to see this picture and their parents may be assured that those things which they do not wish their children to see are not to be found in this pictured story of "Quo Vadis."

The acting is of a high order. The beggar in the story is unusually well done. In fact the writer has seen few players whom he believes even approximates this character.

The words used in the advertising may well be used of this play. It is magnificent, gigantic and enthralling.

In writing thus, the writer desires that it be understood that he is not acting as the advertising agent for the Lyceum theatre. But inasmuch as our theatres are commercial enterprises which must cater to the tastes of their patronage, it is fitting that those who appreciate the better grade pictures should say so. And, again, to criticise the management of theatres for screening the productions which fill the seats is ill-advised unless the critic shows his appreciation of the good pictures and refuses to go to see the questionable ones. A careful choice of pictures on the part of patrons leading to the patronage of those of good quality would quickly result in the management of the theatres offering pictures which are above criticism. In other words we get what we want. The theatre is supplying the demand made by its patrons.

WELCOME EVANGELIST

"An Old Fashioned Theme" Was Topic for First Sermon Given by Dr. George E. Burlingame

"An Old-Fashioned Theme" was the topic for the first sermon given by Geo. E. Burlingame, in the Swedish Baptist Church at Tenth and Oak streets last night. The evangelistic services in which the two Baptist churches of the city have been cooperating, has been transferred for this week to the new location, and will continue through the entire week and over Sunday.

"Come to Jesus" was the recurring strain of the message, and the preacher told why we come to the Saviour: that we may be forgiven, that we may be changed, that we may be satisfied, and that we may be led.

"Alteration done here" was a sign which the speaker saw recently in a Duluth store window, and it concisely set forth the purpose of Jesus through his gospel. He changes things and makes them fit and beautiful. He changes every life he takes hold of, and when we realize that we are not what we ought to be, nor what we want to be, we may come to him and be made new creatures through his divine redeeming power.

Afternoon meetings will be held at 2:30 Wednesday and Friday.

ROLL CALL ENDOREMENTS

Bishop McDowell—"It ought not to be necessary for anyone to commend the work of the American Red Cross. Its record is written on so many fields that it can be read anywhere. I am one of those who have the highest appreciation of gratitude for the work the American Red Cross has done and is doing."

Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia—"I deem it a duty to exhort all our citizens to enroll in this admirable organization, which for so many years past, and especially during the World war, has rendered to mankind such noble services and benefactions. In times of peace it has come to the rescue of victims of pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other great calamity and it strives to devise and carry on measures for preventing the causes of suffering."

Rabbi Stephen Wise—"Every American ought to be a member of the Red Cross. It is America's Community of Service. This is the time to strengthen the Red Cross that it may be enabled adequately to render its present services and be equal to any emergency that may arrise. Armistice Day to Thanksgiving—hope and memory, pride and gratitude, summon every American to the Annual Roll Call of honor through service."

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, Pres. Gen. Fed. Women's Clubs—"It would seem a work of supererogation to commend the Red Cross when we all know what it stands for in the world. It was not hard to get united support of a great relief organization during the crisis of war. But the measure of our depth of compassion must be in these years of broadcast human misery, of tragedies of after war and of catastrophe during which the waters of compassion must be kept sweet and moving."

Little Mother Happy Again

"For the past nine years I have been very much distressed with bloating and stomach trouble due to constipation since I was a child. No medicine gave me more than temporary relief. I got so bad I was afraid I would have to leave my three little children. But since taking a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy two years ago I have been entirely well; no constipation or other trouble." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One does will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and all leading druggists. Adv.

A Penalty for Everything

"Well," declared the man who had been looking over the law, "there seems to be a penalty for everything except stealing a man's daughter."

"Oh," said his friend, "there's a penalty provided for that too."

"What is it?"

"Hard labor for life."
